D6family.com

Due to the unusual circumstances we're all ministering in, we are happy to grant limited permission to use D6 and Elements Kids Worship curriculums in the way that best serves your church. We only ask that you protect our interests by not sharing the content outside of your church congregation or post on open social media.

We do encourage you to post videos of your teachers presenting a lesson and making these resources available to your congregation digitally via email or a secure online portal, such as a private Facebook group.

This special provisional permission will be in effect until we are past the COVID-19 restrictions.

- Where applicable, please list the product name, our url (d6family.com) and include the following credit line: Resources used by limited permission from Randall House Publications
- Use is limited to your church
- This special permission limited to the duration of COVID-19 restrictions

For more FREE family resources, and access to D6 Devotional Study Guides, download the D6 Family app – available on the App Store or get it on Google play.

For a limited time you can download D6 Take n Talks and Field Notes for at-home use.

Digital access and sharing makes it easier than ever to resource your congregation for spiritual growth, even in the midst of the current difficulties.

We are here to help as you encourage and facilitate discipleship through the church and the home.
