

Many churches are temporarily canceling corporate church gatherings at the request and recommendations of the President, CDC, and state governments due to the COVID-19 situation. Many of these churches are using innovative means to provide worship and discipleship opportunities and support their church-life connections.

We've had churches who use D6 curriculum and Elements Kids Worship curriculum request permission to share portions of the copyrighted materials with their groups. This may include sharing a video of teaching a D6 lesson, making reproducible Take n Talk and Field Notes sheets available digitally, or sharing Pastor Steve's Elements Kids Worship video.

Due to the unusual circumstances we're all ministering in, we are happy to grant limited permission to use our resources in the way that best serves your church. We only ask that you protect our interests—so we can continue to provide resources for church and home—by limiting digital or online sharing of any Randall House or D6 resource to the ministry of your church. This special provisional permission will be in effect until we are past the COVID-19 restrictions.

- Where applicable, please list the product name, our url (d6family.com) and include the following credit line: Resources used by limited permission from Randall House Publications
- Use is limited to your church ministry
- This special permission limited to the duration of COVID-19 restrictions

For more FREE family resources download the D6 Family app – available on the App Store or get it on Google play

For a limited time you can download D6 Take n Talk sheets and Field Notes for at-home use.

Thank you for your commitment to ministry and allowing D6 to serve you.

Please join us in praying that the Church will use this current crisis to show the love of God and bring glory and honor to Him.
